ALABAMA

ALABAMA INDUSTRIAL ENERGY CONSUMERS (AIEC)

The AIEC is an ad hoc group of large industrial customers of the Alabama Power Company. The goal of AIEC is to purchase electricity at rates which are as low as reasonably possible, but at least competitive with those in other states and to work in a cooperative manner with the utility and the Alabama Public Service Commission to achieve that goal.

ARIZONA ASSOCIATION OF INDUSTRIES (AAI)

Arizona Association of Industries (AAI) has been protecting Arizona manufacturers and industry since 1964. The AAI mission is to build and enhance a climate favorable to manufacturing and related industries throughout Arizona. With 500 plus members and committees, which include Human Resources, Energy, Environmental, Taxation, and Public Policy, AAI is the information resource for Arizona industry. Annual events include Environmental Summit (May) and the Manufacturer of the Year Award (October).

ARIZONANS FOR ELECTRIC CHOICE AND COMPETITION (AECC)

The AECC is an organization dedicated to the promotion of both deregulation of the Arizona electric industry and competition between existing and potential providers of electricity for the benefit of all Arizona consumers. The organization is a broad-based coalition of both large and small users of power and energy in Arizona. The activities of the organization are in both the legislative and regulatory arenas, working for appropriate legislative changes as well as representing customer interests at the Arizona Corporation Commission in order to facilitate the early establishment of a competitive market for electricity. Members include:

ASARCO, Boeing, Chemical Lime Company, Honeywell, Intel Corporation, Motorola, ON Semiconductor, Lockheed Martin, Phelps Dodge, Arizona Association of Industries, Amigos, Arizona Retailers Association, Arizona Rock Products Association, Arizona School Boards Association, Associated General Contractors of Arizona, Homebuilders Association of Central Arizona, Leisure World Community Association, and Hickman's Egg Ranch.

FLORIDA INDUSTRIAL POWER USERS GROUP (FIPUG)

Florida Industrial Power Users Group (FIPUG) is an organization of over 30 industrial high-load factor consumers of electrical energy. About two-thirds of the group receives non-firm electric service. There are no dues for the organization and the members participate on an ad hoc basis in those dockets before the Florida Public Service Commission or other regulatory bodies as their interests warrant. The organization has been active since 1973.

FLORIDA INDUSTRIAL COGENERATION ASSOCIATION (FICA)

Organized in 1988, the Florida Industrial Cogeneration Association (FICA) is a non-profit trade association serving the growing and continuing needs of large energy consumers that operate cogeneration or other self-generation facilities. Industries represented by its members include, or have included, phosphate fertilizer, citrus processors, pulp and paper, agricultural products, cement and lime, and basic chemicals. In spite of their diversity, FICA's members have a strong and common interest in maintaining and improving the "climate" for those large energy consumers who self-generate electricity to reduce their electric power purchases, who sell electricity to a utility, or who do both.

FICA addresses the special and unique needs of its members, who are large consumers of electricity as well as large producers of electricity. FICA's objective is to maximize the economic benefits of cogeneration and reduce the overall cost of electricity. The scope of activities in which FICA engages are broad, including Florida Public Service Commission (FPSC), Florida Department of Revenue (FDOR), Florida Department of Environmental Protection (DEP), judicial, legislative, and Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC) proceedings.

GEORGIA

GEORGIA INDUSTRIAL GROUP-ELECTRIC

The Georgia Industrial Group-Electric was formed in the early 1970s to intervene and participate in electric rate case matters before the Georgia Public Service Commission. Sutherland, Asbill & Brennan has served as its counsel and Brubaker & Associates has served as the group's consultant since its inception. The group functions as an informal unincorporated association of approximately 30 large industrial companies. It does not have articles of association or bylaws, but it has a chairman, vice chairman, and a steering committee. The entire group usually meets at the Atlanta law office of Sutherland, Asbill & Brennan at least once a year and more frequently if there is an active case. The steering committee meets between 2 and 6 times a year, depending on the activity at the Georgia Public Service Commission.

GTMA - THE ASSOCIATION OF GEORGIA'S TEXTILE, CARPET AND CONSUMER PRODUCTS MANUFACTURERS

GTMA is the trade association, which represents the Georgia textile, carpet, and consumer products industry in legislative and regulatory matters and provides a broad array of services and counsel involving public affairs, human resources, fiber procurement, taxes, the environment, education, funded research, and public utility rates.

The largest manufacturing employer in Georgia, the textile and carpet industry is also the largest industrial class customer of the state's electric utility industry and a significant customer of natural gas. GTMA intervenes in most electrical and natural gas dockets before the Georgia Public Service Commission.

IDAHO

THE INDUSTRIAL CUSTOMERS OF IDAHO POWER (ICIP)

The Industrial Customers of Idaho Power (ICIP) was founded in 1980 to represent Idaho Power Company's industrial customers in rate, service, and policy proceedings before the Idaho Public Utilities Commission. The ICIP, along with its Northwest sister organizations, has emerged as the voice of industry on matters pertaining to cost allocation, supply and demand side resource acquisition, and regulatory policy. The ICIP's goal continues to be to assure that cost allocation and rate design reflect, as closely as possible, objective cost-of-service information and that subsidies of one customer class by another are eliminated.

ILLINOIS INDUSTRIAL ENERGY CONSUMERS (IIEC)

The Illinois Industrial Energy Consumers (IIEC) is an informal association of industrial companies created to maintain an on-going presence before the Illinois Commerce Commission, the Illinois General Assembly, and the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission in order to communicate and act on issues relating to electricity, gas, and water regulation and deregulation, from the large industrial perspective, in Illinois. The group has maintained the concept of ad hoc intervention groups to participate in individual electric, gas and water utility ratemaking matters as applicable before the Illinois Commerce Commission and the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission. Membership in the association does not require participation in individual ratemaking matters.

An Executive Committee, which elects a chairman, manages the activities of the association; a legislative Affairs Committee assists the Executive Committee in developing legislative policies.

IIEC companies participated in the re-enactment of the Illinois Public Utilities Act in Illinois in 1986 and the adoption of the Customer Choice and Rate Relief Law of 1997, which gives customers the opportunity to choose their electric supplier. IIEC companies have participated in every major electric, gas and water ratemaking matter before the Illinois Commerce Commission since 1980.

IOWA INDUSTRIAL ENERGY GROUP, INC. (IEG)

The primary “soft” advocacy group in Iowa in terms of information, policy development before the Iowa Utilities Board and networking is the IIEG. The IIEG is made up of 30 + industrial companies doing business in Iowa and other Midwestern communities, using energy in our processes and products, joined by seven associate members sharing common interests. We offer a monthly e-news letter to members and friends, provide pertinent information updates to member, sponsor an informational website, and host a spring and fall conference.

MAINE INDUSTRIAL ENERGY CONSUMER GROUP (IECG)

The Maine Industrial Energy Consumer Group (IECG) was formed for the purpose of representing Maine industrial energy consumers before appropriate regulatory, legislative, and congressional bodies on energy issues.

IECG's goal is to assure that rate design and services of public utilities are equitable and do not discriminate against industrial consumers. It sponsors satisfactory utility service for the immediate and long-term future. The group is a collective voice that actively works to effect low cost electrical rates by presenting recommendations to the Maine PUC and Legislature. It may also participate in rate case negotiations among involved parties and provide a vehicle for cooperative relationships between utilities and customers.

A second goal of the IECG is to promote well-designed and monitored competitive markets on energy at the wholesale and retail levels. The IECG intervenes at the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, NEPOOL, and before Congress to advocate sound economic legal and regulatory principles.

The members of the IECG are as follows: International Paper Company, MeadWestvaco Corporation, Huhtamaki Foodservices, Inc., Georgia-Pacific Corporation, National Semiconductor, Inc., Wausau Mosinee Paper Corporation, and Pratt Whitney North Berwick.

ASSOCIATION OF BUSINESS ADVOCATING TARIFF EQUITY (ABATE)

Association of Businesses Advocating Tariff Equity (ABATE), formed in 1981, represents the interests of large volume energy users in Michigan. ABATE intervenes in Michigan Public Service Commission proceedings to bring utility rates closer to the cost of service, to permit customers to choose their energy suppliers, and to ensure a reliable, competitively priced energy supply for the state. Where appropriate, ABATE examines the overall revenue requirements as well as the tariffs and conditions of service of Michigan's utilities. ABATE also represents members before the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission.

ABATE monitors and reports on legislation concerning energy matters and becomes involved in lobbying efforts where appropriate.

The association strives to keep members informed of issues affecting them through regular reports on association activities, a bi-monthly newsletter, semi-annual membership meetings, and seminars.

COALITION OF MIDWEST TRANSMISSION CUSTOMERS (CMTC)

The Coalition of Midwest Transmission Consumers (CMTC) is an ad hoc group that was formed by large industrial energy consumers who work together to address matters that affect the availability and price of utility services within the Midwest region. Recent activities include efforts to enable a seamless and efficient wholesale electric market in the Midwest region and to integrate the performance of dynamically interrelated PJM and Midwest regions. The resolution of these issues will affect all ultimate customers in “customer choice” states as well as states that continue to use a “regulated monopoly” model. CMTC is a convenient and effective vehicle for state groups as well as individual larger customers to leverage their collective capabilities, work with other stakeholders and to capture economies of scale. CMTC members consume more than 3 billion kilowatt-hours of energy annually. The current members (2004) of CMTC include: Air Products and Chemicals, Inc.; BOC Gases; Elwood Quality Steels Company; General Motors Corporation; Ipsco Steel; Linde Gas LLC; Marathon Ashland Petroleum LLC; PPG Industries, Inc.; Praxair, Inc.; The Procter & Gamble Company; and The Timken Company. State groups that have actively participated in efforts coordinated by CMTC include the Association of Businesses Advocating Tariff Equality (ABATE), the Carolina Utility Customers Association (CUCA), the Illinois Industrial Energy Consumers (IIEC), the Industrial Energy Users-Ohio (IEU-Ohio), the West Virginia Energy Users Group (WVEUG), and the Wisconsin Industrial Energy Group (WIEG).

OKLAHOMA INDUSTRIAL ENERGY CONSUMERS (OIEC)

The Oklahoma Industrial Energy Consumers (OIEC) is a statewide ad hoc organization of industrial consumers. Its purpose is to provide a forum for Oklahoma industrial firms to promote and protect their interests in matters concerning governmental regulations affecting natural gas and electric issues including, but not limited to, appropriate cost of service ratemaking principals and competition in the utility industry.

The OIEC is the organized and collective voice of industrial customers before the Oklahoma Corporation Commission, the governmental body regulating gas and electric utilities in Oklahoma.

RHODE ISLAND

THE ENERGY COUNCIL OF RHODE ISLAND (TEC-RI)

The Energy Council of Rhode Island (TEC-RI) is a non-profit consortium of the major electricity and natural gas consumers in the state. Our approximately 100 members are mostly manufacturing firms, but also include institutions such as universities and hospitals.

TEC-RI was founded in the early 1980's with the objective of achieving more competitive electricity prices for Rhode Island's industrial sector. TEC-RI played an active role in utility rate cases in an effort to remove subsidies and establish rates based on actual cost of service. Our goal was near-term rate relief for all Rhode Island consumers and expeditious movement towards a truly competitive electricity and natural gas market. In 1992, we requested the Rhode Island Energy Coordinating Council to investigate retail wheeling and in 1994, we petitioned the Division of Public Utilities to study the issues involved in deregulation and retail wheeling. A collaborative of key players was formed to report to the Public Utilities Commission but their efforts were derailed by the passage of the R.I. Utility Restructuring Act of 1996. TEC-RI endorsed the objectives of this bill, but opposed the front end loaded stranded costs as excessive and the failure to order divestiture as delaying a truly competitive electricity market.

TEC-RI has organized a 25 member natural gas-buying pool, which is up, and running. We are currently organizing an electricity buying pool of two-thirds of our members and will seek bids as soon as the Standard Offer goes into effect on June 1, 1998.

SOUTH CAROLINA ENERGY USERS COMMITTEE (SCEUC)

Membership in the South Carolina Energy Users Committee (SCEUC) is voluntary and open to all industries using utility services for energy in South Carolina.

SCEUC is a non-profit, independent, and autonomous business membership association. The principles of SCEUC are as follows:

- Public utilities should have a reasonable opportunity to earn a fair return on their investment.
- Public utilities should be sufficiently financed to maintain adequate and reliable service for the present and future.
- Public utility rates should be based on the costs of service for each class of service.
- State regulatory processes must be responsible and timely.
- Rates of return for customer classes should be equivalent.

The purposes of the SCEUC are the following:

- To intervene and participate in regulatory proceedings to advocate and further the established policies of the SCEUC.
- To notify and inform the members of prospective and pending regulatory and legislative matters of interest.
- To provide a forum for the discussion and exchange of energy-related regulatory and legislative issues of concern to the members.
